

THE BLIND CHILD.

Mother! they say the stars are bright,
And the broad heavens are blue;
I dream of them by day and night,
And think them all like you.
I cannot touch the distant skies,
The stars never speak to me,
But their sweet images arise,
And blend with thoughts of thee.
I know not where, but oft I dream
Of the far-off land of bliss;
And when I hear thy voice, I deem
That heaven is like to this.
When my sad heart to thine is pressed,
My follies are forgiven,
Sweet pleasure warms my beating breast,
And this, I say, is heaven.
O mother! will the God above
Forgive my faults like thee?
Will he bestow such care and love
On a blind child like me?
Dear mother! leave me not alone—
Go with me when I die;
Lend thy blind daughter to the throne,
And stay in yonder sky.

BROTHER AND SISTER.

The relation of brother and sister to one another is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful which Providence has instituted; forbidding, from the different pursuit of the sexes, any thing of that rivalry and interference which is so often the bane of friendship among other equals—and, without the possibility of the sentiment being tainted with any alloy of passion, finding scope for that peculiar tenderness of strength and trustfulness of attachment which belong to the relation of delicacy, dependence and retirement on the one part, and to energy, self-reliance and enterprise on the other.

Is anything more delightful than to witness this relation sustained, as God, when he ordained, designed it should be?—a mutual confidence and esteem, and sense of privilege, evinced and renewed in every daily communication; the sister watching the brother's growing virtues and consequence, with growing pride, while she checks his temerity with her well timed scruples, and finds for him a way to look more cheerfully on his defects; the brother looking on his sister with a fondness that would be a parent's only that is gayer, more confident and more given to expression, and studying with ambitious assiduity, to require the guidance to which his impetuous spirit delights to yield itself; the one zealous and constant in all acceptable kindness, in her secluded sphere, which God has given her an intuitive sagacity to invent—the other delighting to communicate all means of improvement, which his different opportunities of education have prepared him to offer; the one, gratefully conscious of a protection as watchful as it will be prompt and firm—the other of an interested love, which, whether in silence or in words, can speak his praises the most movingly where he may most desire to have them spoken.

Is any thing in the relations appointed by Him who, for wise & kind ends, has put the solitary in families, more delightful to witness, than such a brotherly and sisterly devotion? If there be, it is what remains to be added to the picture. It is seen that they who are thus united, make the younger members of their band a common care, and turn back to offer the gentle and encouraging hand of love more discreet than that of mere equals, and more familiar than the parental, to lead their childish unpractised steps along the path of filial piety, of fraternal union and religious wisdom, which themselves, walking together in it, have found throughout a way of such pleasantness and peace. Yes, earth has no fairer sight than a company so marshalled, of young travellers to heaven.

COMFORT IN AFFLICTION.

When man is alone in the world, all hearts which loved him have ceased to beat, and in the busle of the crowd pressing on in eager pursuit, there is no one who will remain by him, when his solitary groans arise from the hard couch, and no voice answers, but the heartless echo; his tearless eye seeks in vain for another, and his withered hands try to no purpose to grasp the hand of another, and the coldness of man tortures him more keenly than the coldness of winter, which penetrates his gloomy chamber; in this chamber, in which so many mourn, there is still one who forgets not the forgotten; who breaks the thorns of pain. There is near the lone sufferer an eye which kindly beams upon him, and a hand which rises from his bed of straw. Upon the compassionate heart of the Father of men he may repose as a sick child upon the bosom of his mother, and forget all his sorrows in that fountain of unceasing love.

Working Men "can hear."—A few days previous to the recent election in Connecticut, the Rev. Collector Bancroft, of Boston, and his man Friday, Robert Rintoul, Jr. having scoured the interior of the State, paid a visit to New Haven, and while there they happened to go into the extensive carriage factory of Mr. —, who has in his employ some 300 workmen.

The Rev. Collector accosted Mr. — with the customary salute, and by way of a feeler, remarked, "I assure you that it would be to your advantage to go the administration ticket, as in the event of its succeeding, the wages of journeymen must be lower."

Mr. — put his hand in his ear, with a listening attitude, saying "pray speak a little louder, I'm a little deaf." The collector repeated his remark, advising in a much louder strain, when Mr. — replied in a tone corresponding,—"Mr. Bancroft, you'd better not speak quite so loud, my workmen may hear you." The collector and his friend, without further advice took their leave. The result of the election proved that the working men can hear!!

FREDERICK VAN DOORN.
Brattleboro, Jan. 1840.

DR. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

THIS invaluable medicine is daily effecting some of the most astonishing and wonderful cures that have ever been known. All who have ever used it for ASTHMA, COUGH, SPITTING OF BLOOD, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, CHRONIC PLEURISY, HOARSENESS, Pain and Soreness of the breast, Difficulty of breathing, and every other disease of the LUNGS and BREAST, can and do attest to its usefulness. BRONCHITIS, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands upon thousands to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of CONSUMPTION, is always cured by it. The usual symptoms of this disease (Bronchitis) are Cough, Soreness of the Lungs or Throat, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, ASTHMA, Hectic Fever, a spitting of Phlegm or matter, and sometimes blood. It is an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the whole of the wind tubes or air vessels, which run through every part of the Lungs. This Expectorant immediately suppresses the Cough, Pain, Inflammation, Fever and Difficulty of Breathing, and produces a free and easy Expectoration, and a cure is soon effected.

It always cures ASTHMA—two or three large doses will cure the CROUP or HIVES of Children, in from fifteen minutes to an hour's time. It immediately subdues the violence of HOOPING COUGH, and effects a speedy cure. Hundreds who have been given up by their physicians as incurable with "CONSUMPTION," have been restored to perfect health by it.

Jonathan Going, D.D. President of Granville College, Ohio, (late of New York,) in a letter to the proprietor, dated New York, December, 1836, says—"he was labouring under a severe cold, cough and hoarseness, and that his difficulty of breathing was so great that he felt himself in imminent danger of immediate suffocation, but was perfectly cured by using this Expectorant."—Mrs. Delos, of Salem, N. J. was cured of Asthma of twenty years standing, by using two bottles of this medicine. Mrs. Ward, also of Salem, was cured of the same complaint by one bottle. A young lady, also of Salem, who was believed by her friends to be far gone with Consumption, was perfectly restored by three bottles. Dr. Hamilton, of St. James, South Carolina, was greatly affected by a cough, hoarseness and soreness of the lungs, and on using a bottle of this medicine found permanent relief.

Extract of a Certificate from Rev. Dr. Babcock, late President of Waterville College, Maine.—"From intimate personal acquaintance with Dr. D. Jayne a regular student of the Medical University of Pennsylvania, and an experienced, successful practitioner of medicine, I was prepared to appreciate the numerous testimonials in favor of his different medical preparations, much more highly than the great majority of those which are extensively circulated. On trial of them in my own family, and some of them personally, I have more than realized their favorable anticipations. They are what they profess to be—not quick nostrums—but skillfully prepared antidotes for some of the most afflictive of human diseases. I know that they are highly esteemed, and frequently prescribed, by some of the most respectable of the regular practitioners of medicine in this city and elsewhere, and I do not hesitate to commend them as a valuable addition to our materia medica, and a safe, as well as eminently useful remedy for the diseased."

RUFUS BABCOCK, Jr.
Philadelphia, 7th June, 1838.

The following Certificate is from a practising Physician and a much respected Clergyman of the Methodist society.—Dated Modest Town, Va. Aug. 27, 1838.

Dr. JAYNE.—Dear Sir,—I have been using your Expectorant extensively in my practice for the last three months, and for all attacks of Colds, Coughs, Inflammation of the Lungs, Consumption, Asthma, Pains and Weakness of the Breast, it is decidedly the best medicine I have ever tried. Very respectfully yours,
R. W. WILLIAMS, M.D.

The Rev. C. P. Crosby, late Editor of the American Baptist, writes: New York, June 13, 1838.
To Dr. JAYNE.—Dear Sir,—I have made use of your Expectorant, personally, and in my family, for the last six weeks, with great benefit. Indeed I may consider my life prolonged by the use of this valuable medicine, under the blessing of God, for several years. I may say almost as much in the case of my wife, and also of the Rev. Mr. Tinsion, of the Island of Jamaica. For all cases of cough, inflammation of the chest, lungs, and throat, I do most unhesitatingly recommend this as the best medicine I have ever tried. My earnest wish is, that others afflicted as I have been, may experience the same relief, which I am persuaded they will, by using your Expectorant.

Dr. JAYNE.—Dear Sir,—My child, owing to exposure, when recently coming up the Ohio, was attacked by that horrible malady, CROUP. We landed in the night at Beaver Point, and when our fears were alarmed least the hoarse, sepulchral cough was the forerunner of death, we gave him a tea-spoonful of the "Expectorant," (a bottle of which you presented me with when in Philadelphia,) and applied some liniment to the throat and breast; and before many minutes the hoarseness was gone, the child breathed freely and slept sweetly. Owing to these circumstances it cannot be wondered at why I have so high an opinion of Dr. Jayne's medicine, and why I advise every family to keep it on hand, ready for every emergency.

Respectfully yours, J. B. BRADFORD.

Numerous other Certificates equally respectable might be added, but the above are considered sufficient evidence of its great usefulness. Prepared only by Dr. D. JAYNE, No. 20 South 3d Street, Philadelphia, and may be had of DUTTON, CLARK & CO., Brattleboro. Price $1.00.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against purchasing a certain piece of tract of land commencing near the falling mill of Calvin Bucklin in Halifax, and running down the river to Artemas Houghton's land bounded on the north side of the river by the road, and by the road and high water mark on the south side, including the whole of Green River. Said land having been purchased by me of James Stancliff, and conveyed by deed dated May 7th, 1836—and recently said to be conveyed, through mistake, together with another part of the same lot, to Joseph Henry, with an understanding or contract, to be conveyed to Calvin Bucklin—(and without the subscriber's knowledge) which last deed seems to have been entered for record about six or eight hours before the former.

JOHN REID.
Halifax, May 2, 1840.

THIS wonderful Medicine has been introduced to the public but a short time, yet its fame has spread rapidly throughout the United States. The proprietor is constantly receiving orders from every part of the Union. The old Hygienic Theory, that impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases, has become stale, while the Theory of Dr. Kingley, who contends that the most frequent cause of disease, is a derangement in the functions of the Liver is rapidly gaining ground.

The proprietor has received a great number of communications from individuals who have been cured; among which are the following.

I hereby certify, that in the Spring of 1836, I was attacked with what my Physician called the Influenza, attended with great inflammation of the Lungs and Throat, and a difficulty of breathing. I took the prescriptions of my family Physician, and obtained some relief, but the difficulty of breathing still remained, and I suffered severely, I could not lie down and was obliged to take what little sleep I could get sitting up in a chair. I continued in this way for about six months, when the complaint suddenly became more violent and alarming, the inflammation extended to my head and so affected my brain that I was deprived of my reason, and for three weeks was a complete maniac. I was attended by two eminent Physicians who did all they could for me, but said that I could not live; however recovered my reason, and the violence of the disease abated in a measure, but the difficulty of breathing still remained. I had not been able to lie down for about nine months, when one of my friends who called in to see me advised me to try some of Dr. Kingley's Pills, he said he had taken them and they had given him great relief; I sent and procured a box and they gave me immediate relief; before I had taken half of them I could lie down and sleep comfortably which was indeed a great blessing. They produced a wonderful change in my system, and have completely restored me to health. I had also suffered much in consequence of inflammation in my right eye the passage which conveys the tears to the nostril, had become stopped, which is a very troublesome complaint. Soon after I began to take these Pills, I was entirely relieved from this affliction. I have recommended them to many persons who have all been benefited. I do not hesitate to pronounce them the best medicine that I have ever been acquainted with, and one that can be safely taken for any complaint.

JEW DAVIDS,

OR HEBREW PLASTER.

THE peculiarities of this Chemical Compound are owing to its extraordinary effects, upon the animal fibres or nerves, ligaments, and muscles, its virtues being carried by them to the immediate seat of disease or of pain and weakness.

However good any internal remedy may be, this, as an external application, will prove a powerful auxiliary, in removing the disease and facilitating the cure, in cases of Local Inflammation, Scrofulous affections, King's Evil, Gout, Inflammatory, and Chronic Rheumatism, and in all cases where seated pain or weakness exists.

A gentleman travelling in the South of Europe and Palestine, in 1830, heard so much said in the latter place, in praise of Jew David's PLASTER; and of the (as he considered) miraculous cures it had performed, that he was induced to try it on his own person, for a Lung and Liver affection, the removal of which had been the chief object of his journey, but which had resisted the general influence of that balmy and delicious climate.

He accordingly applied a plaster on the right side of the chest, where the pain was seated, another between the shoulders, and one over the region of the liver. In the meantime, he drank freely of an herb tea of laxative qualities. He soon found his health improving; and in a few weeks his cough left him, the soreness of his skin disappeared, his pain was removed, and his health became permanently reinstated.

It has likewise been very beneficial in cases of weakness, such as weakness and pain in the stomach, weak limbs, lameness, affections of the spine, female weakness, &c. No female subject to pain or weakness in the back or side, should be without it. Married ladies, in delicate situations, find great relief from constantly wearing this plaster.

No puffing or great spread of certificates is intended. Those who wish to satisfy themselves of the efficacy of this plaster, can obtain sufficient to spread 6 or 8 plasters for 50 cents; a sum not half sufficient to pay for the insertion of a single certificate into any of our most common papers, a single time. This trifling price per box is placed upon it, in order that it may be within the means of every afflicted son or daughter of the community; that all, whether rich or poor, may obtain the treasure of health which results from its use. Price per box, 50 cents. Directions accompany each box.

Balsam of Liverwort.

To our Country Readers.

CONSUMPTION AND LIVER COMPLAINT.—For a long time I suffered with these diseases, and was the more alarmed, as I had lost two brothers with these diseases. I had the best medical advice in vain; every remedy was tried without effect, and I was almost in despair. I was wasting away, very nervous, had a bad cough, loss of strength, and many dangerous symptoms. At length I tried Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, and I must say, this medicine acted like a charm. Its restorative powers should be made public.

Wm. H. HARRISON, 161 Green st. ASTORIA CURE.—Mrs. Ruten, of 218 Laurens street, says she has been cured of this severe disease, accompanied with severe cough and difficulty of breathing, by the use of Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, after many other medicines failed.

LOOK OUT FOR FRAUDS! Remember the original office for the sale of this medicine, genuine, is at 375 Bowery. No connection with any other article of similar name. A daring imitation has recently been issued, which it will be well to guard against. Buy none that does not come from 375 Bowery, N.Y.
